Taxes jump 10.8%

Ratepayers in the municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden face a 10.8% increase in property taxes in 1985 due in large part to a significant hike in the education levy.

The 1985 budget of $2,720,749 approved by council at a meeting on Thursday includes municipal expenditures of $1,612,990, an education levy of $1,061,209 and payments to the County of Haliburton of $151,522.

The municipal levy has increased by only 3.4% due in part to the $105,000 surplus from last year.

The County levy has shown only a slight increase of 0.6%.

The education levy announced by the Haliburton County Board of Education last month has had a major impact on the overall tax increase. The levy increased by $167,151 to boost the overall tax increase to just under 11%.

In 1985 overall expenditures including county, education and municipal spending, are expected to drop by $9,404 from last year. Total municipal expenditures are also expected to drop slightly.

While many of the separate expenditures by the municipality will remain much the same as last year, there are some major differences.

Administrative costs are expected to drop from $156,644 to $146,070. Similarly funds spent on property will be down from $51,621 to $38,161.

The most significant decrease in expenditures is the amount spent on special programs that are funded mainly by senior levels of government. In 1984 $224,528 was spent on the programs. This year only $48,152 has been allocated.

The municipality will be paying more attention to road construction this year. $162,500 has been earmarked for road construction in 1985, an increase of $23,781 over last year's actual expenditures.

The municipality will also be spending more on planning and development. Spending will increase from $54,872 to $74,570.

Parks and community celebrations will benefit even more from this year's budget. Allocations will nearly double from $78,077 in 1984 to $131,335.

$8000 has been set aside for the municipal election in November, an expense that the municipality has not been able to consider since 1981.

On the revenue side the municipality expects to collect $1,819,584 in taxes in 1985, an increase of $242,027 over last year.

While unconditional grants are expected to increase by $11,616 to $195,055, specific grants are expected to drop sharply from the 1984 figure of $715,384 to $480,740.

Budget spurs surplus debate

The 1985 municipal budget was passed unanimously at the meeting of council on Thursday but not before council members engaged in a spirited debate on the implementation of the 1984 surplus.

Acting Deputy Reeve Gary Kenney began the discussion by commending Acting Reeve, Ed Pergolas and Clerk-Treasurer Bev Millar for their work in preparing "the most clearly stated budget we have seen." Kenney added that although he would have preferred to see a lower increase in the education levy, "The bottom line is that this is a good budget."

Kenney said he did have concerns however since, "There is too much leeway in interpreting the budget in some areas." "We will need to consider what to do with the surplus." He suggested that council should set some priorities in deciding how best to allocate the funds.

Noting that $30,000 of the 1984 surplus has already been allocated to road repairs, as a result of a resolution passed at the last council meeting, Kenney outlined his priorities for the remaining $75,000.

New manager for Chamber

The Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce has a new manager. Shawn Hagerman, chairman of the hiring committee, announced last week that Mrs. Shirley Rapson will be taking over the post.

Mrs. Rapson, who is a native of West Guilford, will be assuming the Chamber duties June 1. She is the daughter of Mrs. Elva Cooper and the late Stanley Cooper. Along with her husband, Ken, she is part owner, with her brothers Earl and Sid Cooper, of the Lakeside Golf Course at West Guilford.

She will be taking over the post which has been vacant for several months following the resignation of Emily Skinner. She stepped down in March due to ill health.

Mrs. Rapson is returning to the Highlands from Timmins where she owned and managed an insurance agency. According to the press release issued by the Chamber, the couple are eagerly looking forward to taking up residence in this area.

Voters want stability: Eakins

John Eakins is looking forward, cautiously, to the era of stable government which he expects to evolve after his party takes its seat on the government side of the provincial legislature. The Victoria-Haliburton MPP made his remarks Tuesday afternoon in an interview with The Times.

"Stability is an important factor at this time," the MPP said. "Most people I talk to do not want another election. With the leadership races at both the federal and provincial levels and the elections at the two levels, people want a period of stable government."

Eakins said he felt his party, with the help of the NDP, could provide that stability in Ontario. However, he also sounded a note of caution by pointing out that even though the Liberals and NDP have formed an alliance which could command a majority in the Legislature, the party is not guaranteed it will get the chance.

He noted that following a vote of confidence in the Legislature, the actions of the Lieutenant Governor would be crucial. While most observers are suggesting the Queen's representative would ask the Liberals, with the help of the NDP to form the next government in the province, he could also call for a general election. While this possibility appears distant, Eakins has not discounted it completely.

The Victoria-Haliburton

MPP said he expected if the Liberals do lead the next provincial government, new legislation would be enacted which would benefit all parts of the province. He said he could not identify any particular legislation which would have a dramatic impact on this riding, but suggested the area would be a beneficiary as would other sectors of the province.

Eakins is one of the more

Texans enjoy Highlands hospitality

The beauty of the Haliburton Highlands will be one of the most lasting memories six visitors from the State of Texas will take home. The six were guests last week of the area Rotary Clubs and were participating in a group study exchange trip.

The visitors reside in the southern portion of the state along the Mexican border. The climate in that area is semi-tropical and arid and the land generally flat. The rolling hills, many lakes and forest cover of the Highlands had obvious appeal for the Texans. As one participant commented, "Everywhere I looked, I wanted to take a photograph."

The four participants in the exchange included Katherine Springman of Brownsville, Cecilia Gorza and Nancy Stewart both of Laredo and Leslie Hutchinson of Corpus Christi. The group was led by Rotarian Dale Barr and his wife Leelee of Brownsville.

Under the Rotary group exchange programs, various club districts, in this case number 593 in southern Texas and 701 representing an area from Peterborough north to Kapuskasing, are twinned. Individuals who are not associated with a Rotary Club are invited to join the study team to spend up to six weeks touring the region. A Rotarian from the home district accompanies the group acting as a leader and liaison.

The program is designed to give individuals an intimate knowledge of another part of the world by providing an opportunity to tour the region and meet the people who live there. This district's outgoing group will be visiting Pakistan next year.

The Texan visitors were the guests of the Minden, Haliburton and Fenelon Falls Rotary clubs at a special meeting Wednesday evening at the Wig-A-Mog Inn. During their visit in the Highlands, the visitors stayed with local families, adding to the personal nature of their visit.

The group arrived in Ontario April 20 and will be returning to Texas June 1.

At the Wednesday evening meeting each of the four guests spoke briefly about their home state. They discussed the economic factors affecting their area and highlighted the attractions of Southern Texas. Noting that the Highlands was a popular tourist destination, they pointed out the similarity with their own region, except in their case it was the long beaches on the Gulf of Mexico and the warm climate which attracted visitors, especially in the winter. As one visitor pointed out, "Our growing season is 365 days long."

Following the formal presentations, the visitors answered questions from the club members.

This fire-blackened shell is all that remains of the home of Jim and Sharon Walker on Red Umbrella Road following an early morning fire Monday. Firemen responded to a call at 5:30 a.m. When they arrived twenty-five minutes later, the fire which had started in an empty room, had spread throughout the attic and firemen were unable to save the building. According to Deputy Fire Chief Don Booth, the smoke from the initial blaze was contained in a bedroom and failed to set off the smoke detector until the fire was out of control and the house filled with smoke. He said it was a miracle the family was able to escape unharmed.

Council debates allocations

First, he said, $44,000 should be transferred to the working reserve fund to replace the amount withdrawn by council in December.

Secondly, the surplus funds of the Agnes Jamieson Gallery and the Recreation Committees should be returned to the respective committees and thirdly, the remaining funds should be allocated to the Parks Department to carry out the development of Minden

Park.

He noted that this formula would reduce the amount intended for the park development by $8000.

Councillor Pat Burk disagreed with Kenney's suggestion, arguing that the Parks Department should receive the full $30,000 that had been allocated. "Part of the surplus was a result of the surplus was a result of Parks funds not being used last year," she said. She added, "It is not fair to take the surplus from the Parks and put it somewhere else. My priorities are the Parks, the Gallery, the Recreation and then put the remainder in the working reserve."

Acting Reeve Ed Pergolas supported Burk's comments and criticised Kenney for. "Trying to take money from a park project that will draw people here." Pergolas added, "You have been campaigning to bring tourists into this area; now you are against this (park development)."

Kenney responded saying he was not opposed to attracting tourism, but argued that the funds allocated to the park development would not be "enough to finish the wild life park anyway." "I don't want the park project to be stopped, but it has a lower priority," he said, adding that a working reserve was necessary as a contingency fund.

Kenney lobbied for a resolution outlining the allocation of the surplus but council agreed to Pergolas' suggestion that the matter be held over until the next meeting so that council could discuss the issue "Armed with facts and figures."

senior members of the Liberal caucus as Queen's Park, having held office since 1975. Asked whether he would speculate on the possibility he might be offered a cabinet post when the Liberals take over the reins, Eakins refused direct comment.

"I would be honoured to serve in the cabinet under David Peterson," the MPP commented. He also pointed out however, "Peterson has a lot of good people from which to choose. It will be a difficult task for him to select the Cabinet."

Asked if he had a preference among the provincial portfolios, Eakins said he would be pleased to serve in any position which the leader of his party asked him to manage.

"I have no knowledge at this time of any Cabinet decisions the leader has made," he said.

The MPP described the current political turmoil at Queen's Park as, "An exciting period of history." He suggested that the current situation was, if not unique, certainly rare in the history of Ontario government.

A callous attitude

The story of Paul Harrison and the heavy-handed treatment he received by the large oil companies is one that should give any businessperson pause to think about just how secure this small bit of Canada really is. What is particularly galling, in this case, is the fact the national oil company responsible for his dilemma is the one we all support, whether we want to or not, with our tax dollars, Petro-Canada.

Paul and his wife Gwen, had watched with pride over the past few years, as their business, Happy Holiday Variety at Hall's Lake, grew and prospered. The success of the enterprise recently reached the point where Paul felt confident enough to leave his city job behind and trust his future, and that of his family, to their business enterprise.

Enter Canada's national oil company. By refusing to guarantee a supply of gasoline, even if Paul willingly installed larger, more efficient tanks, they have knocked the pins out from under his business and his future. In the past three weeks, since the pumps were removed, Paul has experienced a noticeable drop in business as motorists have stopped pulling in. He is trying to expand the product line in the small variety store to attract new trade, but without the gas pumps out front, it's an uphill battle.

Prime Minister Brian Mulroney said in a letter to Paul that it was his government's policy to keep the operation of Crown corporations, like Petro-Canada, at arm's length. We think this is one instance where the government, which just last Thursday expressed a great love for the small businessperson in Canada, should pull in that long reach and take a close, hard look at how one of its agencies tramples all over a "little guy."

The pumps are gone now, ripped from the ground. The gasoline tanks have been unearthed and hauled away. In their wake are bitter memories and frustration, frustration over the callous attitude that is so much at odds with the platitudes expressed by the federal government spokesmen.

Paul Harrison and his family deserve a better deal.

Tenacity.

There's only so long that we can dump garbage in the well, before the problem comes home to roost, through the tap.

This isn't to say that we're not making progress. Over the past two decades, we've made strides toward controlling discharge of polluting wastes, toward controlling and rehabilitating pits and quarries, and on other issues. In the past few years, we've recognized the need - if not the acceptance - of proper hazardous waste disposal facilities in Ontario. We've committed the creation of 155 additional provincial parks - admittedly less than we should be - as permanent living ecosystems. We've recognized the need to clean up leaking dumpsites, to curb acid precipitation and to protect wetlands, even if we haven't overcome the obstacles. And we're beginning to recognize the need to steward - not plunder - our forests.

Which brings me to the key point. If we are going to maintain health and variety in 'the big picture' we must develop a conservation ethic in today's youth - tomorrow's decision-makers.

That ethic will be built partly upon knowledge. But one can know all of the biological minutiae about trout rivers, without having the basic determination that those healthy ecosystems are important to people, and must be preserved.

It's the ethic, even more than knowledge, that counts. And that ethic comes from appreciation and exposure.

That's where you come in. Enthusiasm and appreciation are contagious - especially so with young people. Through your interest, and your enthusiasm, for nature and its conservation, you can help maintain a healthy, wealthy countryside, for tomorrow.

It's not a matter of ponderous lecturing. But, of joy, of interest, of marvel at little pieces discovered. Or rediscovered.

Pause, this weekend, please. Step out from the heat of the moment - become detached, as it were - to contemplate how wealthy we really are. You'll certainly discover beauty long taken for granted. And, share that sense of wealth, appreciation and discovery with others.

We, in Ontario, are bestowed with one of the richest legacies in all the world. Magnificent forests. Superb pastoral and agricultural landscapes. An array of wild, healthy lakes so numerous and beautiful as to be almost beyond comprehension. Gorgeous, vibrant valleys endowed with cold rivers, winding

Editor:

The Board of Education's explanation of the 19.4% increase in education spending still doesn't fully answer my concerns nor, I am sure, the concerns of many other ratepayers.

In fact, the proposed hiring of a curriculum coordinator, another administrative position, adds insult to injury when you consider that enrolment and financial resources are declining. The total administration costs, per pupil, including general, business and instruction appear to be extremely high for the size of the Board's operation.

The report in the newspaper indicated a percentage increase in 1985 budget expenditures of "only 6.65%". Why should this be? The cost of living rose only 3.9%. I would still like an answer as to why the 1984 general administration costs were 42.3% higher than in 1983. As well, I would like to see the Board publish a table showing the decline in enrolment, expenditure increases and pupil-teacher ratio for the past ten years.

I applaud County Council's resolution regarding the 19.4% increase in education spending. There is certainly good reason to question a reserve allocation of $100,000. It should be removed as well as the allocation for a co-ordinator.

We sometimes find it convenient to blame the provincial government for our financial difficulties. Maybe their funding is in line with reality. Dare we suggest that it might be local spending that needs greater scrutiny and management?

Mr. Editor, I don't wish to sound negative in my remarks. I do have a high respect for teachers and our educational system. However, if our costs are not kept within reason, the result will be to drive many people from the area and/or increase defaults in payment of taxes.

In last week's issue of your paper, you featured a story about a bus driver and three of his poetic passengers. What wasn't mentioned in the story was that "Uncle

Since Doug has left the route, he went ahead and opened accounts with $20 deposits in each of the children's names at one of the local banks.

In this world of grab and take, it is hard to find people like "Uncle Doug". We were as pleasantly surprised as the children. I felt it only fair to bring this to your attention and trust that your faith in mankind will be restored as was mine. Thanks "Uncle Doug."

Squeezed out of the gas market

by Michael Shirley

Private entrepreneurs have become the heroes of the Eighties in this country, at least in the eyes of some politicians.

It appears the Federal Government would rather see private entrepreneurs immigrate to Canada than refugees fleeing political oppression. Some politicians seem to think that small businessmen will lead this country bravely into the future.

In the recent provincial election campaign small businessmen were variously described as the salt of the earth, the backbone of the country, and the key to economic prosperity and all manner of promises were made to improve the economic climate for small businesses.

However, to one area businessman, the promises and words of praise must seem like so much hollow rhetoric that ignores the realities of contemporary society.

Paul Harrison and his wife Gwen were born and raised in Haliburton County. Like many young people, they moved to the city to find employment but hoped one day to return to the Highlands. Five years ago they purchased Happy Holiday Variety, a general store and gas bar on Highway 35 at Halls Lake.

For four years Gwen ran the business herself on weekdays. Paul continued working as a technical director for a printing company in Toronto, returning home weekends to help Gwen with their business.

The business grew steadily and last year Paul resigned his position in Toronto. As Paul explained, "We decided that it was time for me to work full time here and be together as a family."

Contract renewed

At the time the Harrisons purchased the business, they renewed the contract with Sunoco to supply gasoline through a fuel supply dealership in Huntsville. Within a few years "gasoline sales were 50% of our business right off the top and were an important drawing card," Paul said.

An informal survey carried out by the couple last summer showed, "80% of the motorists who stopped to buy gas also purchased cigarettes, pop, chips and so on from the store." As Paul noted, "People don't like to stop twice."

Sales of gasoline increased significantly, jumping from 30,000 gallons in 1983 to 50,000 gallons in 1984. But there was one small problem. Unleaded gas was stored in a 500 gallon underground tank and during the busy summer months the supply would be depleted within a matter of days.

Paul Harrison, in front of his Happy Holiday Variety Store, stands on the spot where the gas pumps once were.

Since fuel suppliers will not deliver small volumes of gasoline, the Harrisons would have to wait for several days while the supply of regular gasoline, contained in a 2000 gallon tank, was pumped out before they could order another shipment.

Paul realized that he was losing business because of the small tank and decided to install two 4000 gallon storage tanks. He estimated that "sales could easily have reached 120,000 gallons this year." Paul was optimistic about future sales in spite of the fact, "There has been a gas war going on here for the past two and a half years. It has been a very competitive situation. I have often had to change the price twice in one day and have changed it as much as three times in a single day," on orders from head office.

Bright future shattered

The Harrisons were looking forward to the challenge and the growth of their small business. They expanded the store and hired staff to better serve their customers.

But then a crown corporation, that Paul describes sardonically as "The Great Canadian Oil Company," entered the picture.

On July 1984 the Harrisons received a letter from a representative of Petro-Canada, informing them that the Sunoco distributor in Huntsville had been transferred to Petro-Canada. Shortly afterward, the dealership ceased operations in the interests of efficiency and the Harrisons began receiving fuel deliveries from Toronto. Later that month, the couple received a letter from Pat Carney, Minister of Energy Mines and Resources, which stated in part, "The closest Petro-Canada agent is a long distance from you and may not be able to deliver to your storage tanks economically and therefore officials of Petro-Canada encourage you to seek an alternative supplier who is located closer to your premises."

The letter marked the beginning of an eleven month battle for the Harrisons.

Paul contacted officials of the crown corporation and was told that Petro-Canada would honour the contract for fuel delivery until the expiry date in April 1986. For the final year of the contract, the company would deliver unbranded fuel from a depot in Toronto. After delivery of this generic "no name" brand, deliveries would cease.

Paul appealed the decision. He wrote to officials of the corporation, MPP John Eakins, MP Bill Scott and Prime Minister Brian Mulroney. He approached all the major private oil companies but at first was told his operation was too small.

Paul offered to install the larger tanks at his own cost, even though the companies usually assume some of these costs.

He asked for a five year contract in return, to recoup the estimated $35,000 cost of installing the tanks, but got nowhere.

The companies were not interested in his business. "I have been calling one company for nearly a year, but I have never had an answer," he said, adding, "In fact, nobody will tell me why I can't get gas."

While he received no official answers, he has been told privately to give up his fight. "Petro-Canada told me that before they put a station in here with their name on it, I would have to pump a minimum of 300,000-350,000 gallons a year. They said they were not interested in supplying a small independent," he said, adding, "I have been told that Petro-Canada wants to reduce the number of stations between Toronto and North Bay from eleven to four."

"What irks me is that I have been told that all the oil companies want the small independents out of business. I have been told that it is a sign of the times and that I might as well forget it," he said. "I have dealt with a lot of big companies all across North America while working for the printing company but I have never seen anything like this. Competition is what this country is built on."

"One cut-rate gas company said they would supply me with gas if I installed two 10,000 gallon tanks. I would have ended up with the largest tanks in the county, which is not what I needed and it would have cost me about $100,000. That is too much for me to afford."

Nice letters

Paul continued to write letters and make hundreds of dollars worth of telephone calls in order to acquire a contract. In November 1984, he received an answer to his second letter to Prime Minister Brian Mulroney. The P.M. wished him the best of luck, but noted "the government maintains an arm's-length relationship with the Crown Corporation" and assured Harrison that Pat Carney has been "monitoring the situation."

Commenting on this and other letters he has received,

Paul said "I don't want nice letters. I want action."

"I don't expect them to haul fuel all the way from Toronto just to supply us, but there are a lot of gas stations in the area that they have to haul to anyway. I am not looking for handouts."

In December 1984, Paul was informed by Sunoco that the company would be removing the pumps, signs and tanks from his property in April 1985. Later the company offered to sell the equipment to the Harrisons for a token amount, but Paul could not accept the offer.

While he could use the tanks for the duration of the contract with Petro-Canada, he had no assurance he would be able to renew the contract in April 1986 with Petro-Canada or a private oil company.

Since the law stipulates that gasoline storage tanks must be removed within six months after pumping operations have ceased, the Harrisons might find themselves responsible for the large expense of removing the tanks and shipping them to a disposal site.

Installing larger tanks at his own cost was also out of the question. "I don't know anyone willing to spend $35,000 to install tanks and pumps on the chance that someone will supply them after the one year contract is up," he said.

Three weeks ago Sunoco removed their equipment.

"They took out four tanks. The ones I was using were installed around 1966. The other two tanks had probably been there for 20 years before that. This place has supplied fuel for a long time, to a lot of people" Paul said.

Business hurt

The impact on the Harrison's business was immediate.

"Before the pumps were taken away, Sunday had always been the busiest day of the week by far, and not just for gas sales. The last three Sundays have been just like Mondays. Very Quiet," Paul said, adding, "Our drawing card has been eliminated."

After the pumps were removed, the Harrisons set out a petition on the counter on the request of some of the customers. "We wanted to keep our fight private, but we had so many questions that we wrote out this petition. In the equivalent of one business day, we received 201 signatures supporting us."

However, Paul realizes the petition will have little effect. "We are out of business. That's all there is to it," he said. The Harrisons hope to continue to operate Happy Holiday Variety. "I figure we can survive by increasing our stock of hardware, fishing tackle and propane. We will just have to do a lot to recoup the business we lost, but we have had to cut our staff in half," Paul said.

As for other small independent operators, Paul expects to see more stations shut down in the next few years as the oil companies continue the trend to bigger dealerships. "Besides the small operators, the customers will lose out because they will have to travel further to get gas," he said.

As for the alleged support small business receives from the government, particularly in this area, Paul said, "The government considers any company that has 30-40 employees as a small business. There are very few places in the county that employ that many people. If you have less than that many people working for you, you might as well forget it; you may as well not exist for all the help you will get."

May 23. This seems a long time to receive a form letter reply. Was this due to slow mail or slow office procedures?

I have received 12 letters from Edmonton taking from 4 to 10 days to complete the delivery. Why the variation?

In 1942, costing 3c, mail went from Brantford, Ontario to Edmonton in 3-4 days. I fail to see any improvement over the system for about eleven times the cost and much "expensive" technology. The problem seems to be personnel and not lack of ability.

To register your complaint, write "NOW" to: Minister Responsible For Canada Post Corp., House of Commons, Ottawa, Ont. K1A 0A6.

Following is a copy of the letter we received May 23.

Dear Mrs. Lee:

Thank you for your recent letter concerning Canada Post Corporation's proposal to revise postal rates.

As you may be aware, any rate increases by Canada Post are set by regulation and are subject to scrutiny as are other federal regulations.

Proposed rate increases are published by Canada Post in the Canada Gazette; this was done on April 10. Following this, members of the general public have 60 days to make their views known to Members of Parliament, including myself, as Minister responsible for Canada Post Corporation.

During this time period, proposed rate increases could be either withdrawn or amended by Canada Post. If a proposed rate increase is not withdrawn by the Corporation before the end of 60 days, the proposed regulation is submitted to the Cabinet. At this time, a decision whether to approve or reject an increase is made. Cabinet's decision is based to a large extent on representations such as your own.

I have noted your views on the Corporation's proposal and can assure you that they will be given careful consideration before a decision is made. This review process is an important one, and I appreciate your taking the time to participate in it.

Sincerely,

Perrin Beatty

Please folks, get into gear and write Ottawa. It is "FREE" (no postage required by law.) Time is running out, as you can see by the enclosed letter.

Jack Lee,
Minden.

Water level report

The latter part of the Victoria Day weekend saw rain which accumulated to 15 to 30 mm over much of the watersheds of the Trent and Severn Rivers, with the exception of Southern parts of the Lake Simcoe basin. This tended to arrest the decline of the Kawarths and boost the levels of the Haliburton Lakes for a few days. On May 21 the levels averaged 99%.

By Thursday, May 23 this effect seemed to have passed and flow reductions were made in Haliburton. Flow coming from the Kawarths had been reduced each day beginning Monday and was down to about 33 cubic meters per second by the 24th, which is near the practical minimum. Only a small surplus remains on these lakes, but they are holding steady.

Only light rain is expected this weekend, but drawing of some reserve water should not be required for two weeks.

Minden prepares to welcome 1500 in Ride for Sight

Preparations are under-way for the arrival in Minden June 8 of some 1500 motorcyclists from throughout Ontario. The motorcyclists will be participants in an annual charity effort, the Ride for Sight which raises money for the Retinitis Pigmentosa Foundation.

The riders will be converging on Minden from 21 points in the province. While the largest group will be travelling in convoy from Toronto, other contingents will be travelling from such start locations as Sudbury, Sault Ste Marie, Windsor, Brockville, to name just a few.

The riders will have two reasons for taking part in the weekend event. For most, an excursion like the one planned is an exciting and entertaining event. It gives them an opportunity to meet others members of the motorcycle fraternity and to see a part of the province that, probably, most have not visited.

The second, and perhaps most important reason, for the ride, is to raise money for the Retinitis Pigmentosa Foundation. RP, as the disease is called, is an affliction of the eye which usually strikes children and teenagers. The disease, for which there is no known cure, results in the gradual loss of sight by the victim. As the disease progresses, the victim slowly loses his field of vision until, just before total blindness, he has what is known as tunnel vision.

The Ontario Ride for Sight is one of a number taking place across the country. Taken in combination, the rides represent the major fund raising effort of the RP Foundation. Last year, the Ontario ride raised $150,000.

During the past few months, riders have been canvassing friends, family and associates in their home communities seeking donations for the RP Foundation. Their donation booklet is a ticket in to a weekend of activities planned at the Minden Fairgrounds.

The Municipality has granted permission for the motorcyclists to use the field adjacent to the ball diamond as a camping area Saturday night. While many of the riders are expected to take advantage of the facilities, other riders have already made accommodation scarce in the Minden area that weekend.

Included in the program will be a trade show Saturday afternoon and evening, during which major manufacturers will be displaying their latest models. Qualified motorcyclists will be given an opportunity to drive some of these motorcycles.

Also included in the afternoon program will be a number of games of skill on the fairgrounds, demonstrations of motorcycle skills and a chance for spectators to meet the riders and admire the bikes.

That evening, the motorcyclists will have an opportunity to sample a Haliburton County beef barbeque as prepared by the building fund committee of St. Paul's Anglican Church. In the evening, the Rotary Club of Minden will hold a dance at the arena.

Before departing in the morning, the motorcyclists will be able to enjoy a pancake breakfast prepared by Minden Figure Skating Club at the arena. Following an open air church service at the fair ground, the motorcyclists will participate in a tour of the Highlands which will take them from Minden to Haliburton, north to West Guilford then through Stanhope Township to Highway 35 and back to Minden. At that point, the individuals will head back to their home communities.

The ride is being co-hosted by the Canadian Gold Wing Owners Association of Toronto, the Venture Touring Society and the Red Knights of Ontario, a group representing working firemen who enjoy the sport of motorcycling. In Minden the visit of the motorcyclists is being co-ordinated by a committee which includes municipal and BIA representatives.

During the weekend, spectators are welcome to visit the fairgrounds and take in the activities or admire the motorcycles on display. There will be no admission charge and free parking will be available at the arena.

and branching with infinite complexity across our countryside. Parks and Niagara Escarpment - world class features cloaked with the finest of filigreed costumes.

Each of these packed with fantastic variety - fish, deer, songbirds, orchids. Hundreds of species of wildflowers. Spectacular aesthetics. The water, forest and agricultural base which will sustain future generations. And the very perception of our country as a special place to live and raise families.

It's a heritage envied world-wide. Yet, too often, we take it for granted. We view it as simple raw material - not as a custodial responsibility.

We view it as a place to get lumber or wood fibre, at the lowest possible cost, accepting both deregulation and 'forest mining'. We view it as a place to dump our wastes. We accept incremental pollution of not only the Niagara River and Lake Ontario, but most of our water bodies, rationalizing that it's too expensive to keep them clean. We accept acidification of our lacustrine and terrestrial wealth - to keep power vehicle and mineral costs to a minimum.

Are we truly so avaricious as to deliberately despoil our children's and grandchildren's heritage? Or, are we really patriotic Canadians, truly committed to future generations, who have simply lost sight of 'the big picture' in the heat of our personal needs and wants.

Minden Plymouth Chrysler is pleased to announce the appointment of Bob Dennie as Service and Parts Manager. Bob has many years of experience in vehicle repair and servicing in the Minden area. He invites his many friends and former associates to drop by and say hello and see the line of 1985 Dodge and Chrysler cars and trucks.

Young musicians delight audience

by Susan Beers

Haliburton Highlands Secondary School Auditorium was the scene of the Music Department's annual May Concert Thursday evening. The Concert, Stage and Grade Nine bands entertained the small, but highly enthusiastic audience in a two hour display of their many talents.

The program began with the Concert band who showed their excellence with selections which included Bach's Prelude and Fugue in B Flat Major and Instant Concert which consisted of a few bars of almost anything, much in the style of "Hooked on Classics". The audience had a splendid time trying to guess the names of the tunes, over thirty of them in about four minutes.

The sounds of a Chopin piano solo, beautifully executed by Lorie Valentine, added to the enjoyment of the evening.

Greatly improved since the Spring Concert were the Grade Nine band who played various selections including Dixieland, themes from TV and three Scottish Folk songs, (so well done that they brought a homesick pang to the writer.)

There was a short intermission after which the Stage Band performed the music from Flashdance and Hill St. Blues. Their execution was superb and it was quite easy to see why they won their Jazz contest in Bracebridge.

A vocal solo by Robyn Billings accompanied on the piano, was another hit of the evening. Miss Billings' lovely voice suited her selections, The Rose and Almost Over You.

The Stage Band then came back with Morning Light and an old Forties hit by Louis Prima, Sing Sing Sing which had more than one set of feet tapping in the audience. This arrangement was so well done, the audience literally leapt to their feet calling for more from the group.

The evening came to a close with the Concert Band who finished with a selection from the musical Grease. Again feet were tapping and hands clapping and yet again the audience rose to salute the talented youngsters and their musical director Rick Vaughan.

A spokesperson for the bands came forward and thanked Mr. Vaughan for all he and various others had done for them during the year and Mr. Vaughan was presented with a beautiful high stool (which seemed to have significance for the music students!).

We must not forget the solo artists who added greatly to the performances during the evening, they included Marg Smith on alto sax, Lorie Valentine on trumpet and Lisa Miller on piano.

The evening was certainly a success for everyone concerned, the students whose talents were on display, Mr. Vaughan, who must be very proud of them by seeing and hearing such splendid results of his work and, most of all, the audience, who enjoyed the culmination of a year of hard work.

Those to be congratulated include:

Concert Band: Flute: Charlene English, Anita Kuno, Lori O'Brien, Stephanie O'Brien, Susan Peel,

A wall of solid brass blasted their way into the hearts and ears of students at Archie Stouffer School last Friday afternoon during the performance by the HHSS Concert and Stage bands.

Two wins for Hustlers

The Minden Rockcliffe Hustlers opened the 1985 season with a bang as they slammed the Bobcaygeon Juniors 11 - 4 and Lindsay York Tavern 10 - 3.

On the holiday Monday the locals travelled to Bobcaygeon for the opening game of the season. They met the Juniors, (a new entry this year), who are coached by Pat Byrne, a last year Hustler. The Hustlers wasted no time getting on the board as they scored 3 runs in the first inning and 2 in the second. The home team counted 2 runs of their own in the second. The game stayed very close until the sixth inning when the Rockcliffe boys scored 4 runs putting the game out of reach.

This game was a lot closer than the score indicated and it is felt that this Junior team will be a strong entry before the year is over.

Jack Snell was the winning pitcher of the game with Barry Hammond (3 hits) and Colin Newell (2 doubles) the big batters.

At home on Wednesday night against York Tavern it looked at first like the Hustlers were in trouble as Lindsay jumped into an early 3 to 1 lead after two innings of play. The game stayed like this until the fifth inning when the local bats came alive as they slammed out 5 runs and then 4 more in the sixth inning to completely overwhelm the boys from Lindsay.

Jack Snell was the winning pitcher, raising his record to 2 wins against no losses. Snell also helped his own cause as he slammed a 2 run double off the centre field fence.

Big guns at the bat for the Hustlers were the Newell boys - Colin (homer, double, single) Greg - (double, single) Dave Dollo (triple, single) and Dave Hartwick who hit a mammoth home run that almost knocked the rain out of the clouds.

The Hustlers, who are sporting new uniforms, compliments of Dave Willis of The Rockcliffe Tavern, are at home every Wednesday night at 8:00 p.m.

There are a few new faces on the team this year as Brian Shaw has rejoined the team. Barry Boice from West Guilford and Tom Haley are newcomers.

This week the Hustlers host Lindsay Kent Tavern, so let's get out and give the boys a boost.

Ladies baseball season opens

Another baseball season is underway for the Haliburton County Ladies Softball Association.

This year the league is comprised of 6 teams: Minden Seniors, Minden Juniors, Wilberforce, Haliburton Juniors, Haliburton Seniors, and Gooderham. Unfortunately, West Guilford was unable to field a team this year, but we would welcome Gooderham back to the group after several years absence from the league.

Victoria Day Monday was the start of the schedule but both games that were to be played that night were cancelled because of rain. The Haliburton Seniors played their game against Wilberforce later in the week and came away the winners, aided by terrific batting by Jody Ainsworth and a home run by Wendy Roberts.

On May 21 the Minden Dixie Lee Seniors outscored the Minden Juniors with Anne Hewson on the mound for the winners and Andrea Burk pitching for the Juniors. The Haliburton Seniors won their second game that same night outscoring Gooderham 16 to 6.

The next night a rematch of last year's final playoff games occurred in Haliburton. The Haliburton Juniors continued their winning ways by defeating the Minden Dixie Lee Seniors by a score of 12 to 6. Marg Smith was on the mound for the winners while Nelda Cully took the loss. In Wilberforce that night Gooderham lost a close game to Wilberforce by a score of 14 to 13.

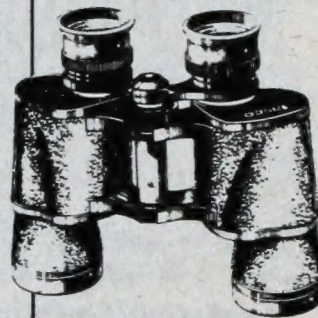

We'd like to encourage everyone to come out and see some entertaining baseball at your local diamond. Luckily the price of admission to our games was one thing not affected by "The Budget".

A reminder to all team members of the general meeting on June 6 at 7 p.m. at the High School. Please try and make this meeting and be sure your team will be represented in the decisions that will be made.

First loss for kickers

The Haliburton Dixie Lee Soccer team lost its first game of the season Sunday in Bracebridge, going down to a 2-1 defeat. The game was hampered by wet field conditions and the players had to deal with rainfall for a portion of the match.

Bracebridge took a lead in the scoring in the first half of the game. The goal came despite some excellent goaltending by Andy Shapiera. According to one member of the team, "Andy knows how to hang on to the ball."

The second Bracebridge goal was knocked in off one of our own players.

With just minutes left to go in the game, Ivor Thompson was tripped while closing in on the opposition net. The call resulted in a penalty kick for the Dixie Lee squad, leading to the team's only marker.

Mike Hatkoski is once again playing for the Haliburton team. His improved play has increased the attention the opponents are paying to his position on field.

The next game for the Haliburton team will be this Sunday at the HHSS pitch at 2 p.m. The local team will host Huntsville. There is no charge for admission.

Team members are reminded of the practice this Thursday evening at Archie Stouffer School in Minden at 7 p.m.

Several members will also be participating in the annual Walk for Water this Saturday starting in Minden.

Finally, the team will be without the services of Terry Crowe for the rest of the season. Terry broke his leg during a practice. A mid-fielder for the team during the past two seasons, Terry has been a valuable asset to the team.

Messages for Saturday walkers

We are very pleased with the encouraging response to this year's WALK FOR WATER. Our reports indicate that many residents and visitors will be taking part in the WALK.

After many planning meetings, we are prepared for Saturday, June 1, with registration starting at 7:00 a.m. at Minden Municipal parking lot. Check points will be well staffed with water and oranges at each stop, also medical supplies and washroom facilities. CB radio cars will monitor the route and walkers who decide to discontinue will be provided with necessary transportation. The route will be well marked for walkers and drivers.

All walkers will receive a "I walked for water" button, and those who finish the walk will be given the opportunity to sign a large commemorative scroll.

To insure that the WALK goes smoothly and safely, walkers should note the following considerations:

(b) Motorists should drive with extreme caution when travelling on the walk route

(c) Follow the signs along the route

(d) Remember to bring your walk form with you and your approximate amount of pledges. Have walk form checked at each checkpoint.

(e) Wear shoes and clothes that are comfortable for you

(f) Do not litter the route. There will be a garbage can at each checkpoint

(g) Remember your 'pledge collection' places: Minden - Saturday, June 1, 9 a.m. - noon, Municipal Office. Haliburton - Bank of Montreal - June 3 - 15. Obtain a receipt for any money turned in.

There is still plenty of time to participate in the WALK FOR WATER. You can get a WALK form at Bowes and Cocks in Minden and Halco Audio-Visual in Haliburton. Forms will also be available on the morning of the walk.

If you are unable to join us on June 1, sponsor a walker and know that you have contributed to pure drinking water for others in third world countries.

See you in the WALK!

Dear Gerry Feltham:

Your letter to me dated April 21st came in while I was on a tour in China for the whole of April. Since returning I have been travelling all over Canada on speaking appointments that should have been done in April. Only now am I getting down to studying your letter of April 21st. This delay in replying is due to pressure of work only and is not due to any lack of interest.

While working in India from 1954-67 I had much to do with well drilling efforts and saw their great success. One was particularly impressed with a "Wells for Rajasthan" which was done by one of the Rotary Club Districts, not my own. Some of their members later took a trip out to Rajasthan, not far from where we were to look at what had been done. They found that for every Canadian dollar put in the local people had put in $19 in work and local supplies. The point is that had the Canadian dollar not been there the well would never have been dug!

My appointments prevent me from joining your efforts on June 1st but herewith is a statement of support for you to use. My best wishes go with you and your colleagues in this effort.

Robert B. McClure,
Toronto.

Family life in the nuclear age

"Parents and Children Together: Facing the Nuclear Age" will be the theme of a workshop to be held in Fenelon Falls on Sunday, June 2, from 2-4:30 p.m., at the Fenelon Falls United Church. Dr. Susan Goldberg, a Toronto child psychologist and member of the group "Parents for Peace" will lead the workshop.

In Dr. Goldberg's words, the workshop's aim is "to involve people in sharing their experiences and questions, and to discuss with parents how we can best help our children to cope with the fears and anxieties created by living in a nuclear age."

Much of the research being done by child psychologists reveals that children are much more aware of the nuclear threat than most adults would assume. In a recent study, more than half of the children questioned believed that there would be a nuclear war within their lifetime.

Vivienne Verdon-Roe,

director of a film to be shown in Fenelon Falls, states that "If young people feel that nothing lasts, they will develop an attitude that nothing matters. It is very difficult to form stable ideals and values in a world that does not appear to be stable. Youth are angry at adults for potentially taking away their future."

These issues and others will be discussed at the upcoming workshop in Fenelon Falls on June 2. All are welcome, and child care will be available. An admission fee of $3 per person will help defray costs. For further information, phone 887-2363. This event is sponsored by the Victoria Peace Project.

A & J Rennie Office Supply is pleased to announce the appointment of Larry Scharfe to the position of manager of the Minden Store. Larry brings nine years of office supply experience to the post and is looking forward to meeting the needs of clients throughout Haliburton County. The new manager extends an invitation to area residents to visit the new outlet on Main Street, across from the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce and discuss your office supply needs.

Games luncheon planned Monday

by Donna Bailey

Just a reminder that the deadline for luncheon reservations for the June 3 Dixie Lee luncheon at a cost of $4 per person as part of the opening ceremonies of the second annual Ontario Senior Games for Haliburton County at the Haliburton County Home Support Services Drop-In Centre is this Friday, May 30. Please phone our office at 457-2941 for reservations.

We are still in need of people to man the Home Support Services booth at the Kinsmen Home Show.

The dates we need volunteers are June 14 and 15. If you can spare two hours during either of those days to hand out brochures, newsletters and other information please contact us.

Four representatives from Haliburton County Home Support Services will be attending the First Conference of Home Support Services in Toronto this week. We are looking forward to a time of learning and sharing with other Home Support organizations.

ASK YOUR PHARMACIST

I like to tan...

(NC) — "I'm going to Florida for two weeks and I want to come home with a spectacular tan. What sort of suntan lotion should I use?"

You're wise to choose your sunscreen product carefully. What you want is a healthy, warm glow. What you don't want is a sunburn.

The best way to get a good tan without burning is from short, repetitive exposures to the sun. This stimulates the melanocytes (pigment cells of the skin) to darken without exposing the skin to excessive radiation which leads to burning. Increase your exposure to the sun gradually, day by day. That way you'll have a tan to be proud of when you come home. Far better to have it fade away than peel away.

Suncreens are formulated as oils, lotions, creams, and gels. Creams and gels generally provide you with a bit more protection than oils and lotions. You must apply your sunscreen smoothly and evenly and reapply it after swimming or if you are sweating heavily. This will help you continue your sunscreen's initial protection; however, continuous reapplication of the same product will not lengthen the time you can be out in the sun before burning. You simply cannot double your SPF factor by applying the same sunscreen twice.

SPF factor? You've probably noticed that most products today are marked with an SPF number. The SPF number is the "sun protection factor" number. It represents the ratio of time for sunburning unprotected skin as opposed to protected skin. For example, if you usually burn in one hour of sun exposure you can, theoretically, remain in the sun for 6 hours before you will burn if you use a product with an SPF of 6. In theory, that is. Some products vary in the accuracy of their ranked SPF values. SPF numbers are drawn from a scale of 2 to 17. Err on the side of caution; choose a higher SPF number rather than a lower one.

Choose your SPF number by the type of skin you have:

What type of skin do you have? You'll have to answer that one yourself by considering your previous sun-tanning history. Don't forget: Your skin's sensitivity to the sun can change. Have you been badly burned before? You will burn more easily now.

Are you taking any medications? Birth control pills, for example. Tetracycline for acne? Your skin may be more sensitive to the sun than usual. This includes winter or summer sun. Your pharmacist can tell you what medicines may have this effect. Be sure to ask.

One more thing. A sunburn does not show for 2 to 6 hours after leaving the sun. Come in early.

Anson Township

This township was surveyed in 1858 and takes its name from the distinguished English family of soldiers and sailors connected with the Earl of Lichfield. George Anson, commander-in-chief of the British forces in India, was born in London, 1797, died of cholera at Kurnaul, 1857. He was the second son of Thomas, first Viscount Anson, and brother of the first Earl of Lichfield. He served at Waterloo with the Scots Fusilier Guards, sat in Parliament 1828-53 as a Liberal, and was a noted whist-player as well as a zealous patron of the turf. Lord George Anson, Baron Soberton, was born in 1697 and died in 1762. He entered the navy when a boy and in 1724 was a post-captain in command of the Scarborough man of war. In 1739 he started with a badly equipped fleet to harass the Spanish trade and settlements in the Pacific and after winning many victories and capturing rich prizes, he circumnavigated the globe and got home in 1744. In 1757 he was made the head of the admiralty. It was Admiral Anson, who, in 1761, sailed from Harwich in the Charlotte yacht to bring George III's bride to England. He was noted for his tender care of the sick and his humanity toward prisoners.

The first school at Gull River was situated on the Anson side of the Bobcaygeon Road, in a log building near the river; the next school was nearly opposite the present school, and was in Minden Township, but the present splendid school was erected in Anson Township, on an eminence overlooking the village.

Some of the best farms in the district are to be found in Anson, but a large portion is unfit for settlement.

Mr. Barton has a saw-mill two miles north of Minden Village, said village being partly in Anson Township, as referred to in the write-up of that place.

A history-making incident took place here in the early days of Anson's settlement, for it was understood that some of the ardent Protestants had decided that this particular section should be for Protestants only, and when three strangers appeared at the Scotch Line, who were said to be Romanists, they were visited at their camp on Sunday and quietly told that if they were not Protestant the people here would rather they would not settle. The result was that very few Romanists made homes in this district.

Hindon Township

Was surveyed in 1860 and takes its name from the old town of Hindon in Wiltshire, which was represented in Parliament before the Reform Bill was adopted. In a foot note to "English Bards and Scotch Reviewers," Byron mentions that Matthew Gregory Lewis was M.P. for Hindon. A fine variety of free-stone is obtained near the town of Hindon.

Only a small portion of this township is settled, for a lumbering firm purchased the timber limits of the township and refused to allow settlement.

Hindon Hill Post Office is situated some ten miles north of Minden Village.

In 1927 the Ontario Government transferred two or three families from this township of Northern Ontario, where they were settled on the "Clay Belt", at the expense of the Government. The lands thus vacated in Hindon are being held for reforestation.

Material taken from the publication "A brief History of names in the County of Haliburton", written by R. H. Baker.

Lumbering was the backbone of economy in the early days of this area. During the winter months, the camps would swell with men, who, during the summer months, toiled as farmers. This photo shows a classic lumber camp pose in Anson Township. The date is uncertain, but appears to be about the turn of the century. This is another photo from the collection of Verne Graham.

A Pep Talk

Pick yourself up
Dust yourself off
And start all over again -
An old adage, but true
When things just don't go right for you
When the sound of laughter
Is something you may only hear in the hereafter
Is what you think -
You look for a friend
Living round the bend
In the road.
The house is empty
And so is your soul.
But you are made of stronger stuff
And when the going's rough
It makes you tougher.
"Stop feeling sorry for yourself"
You say -
"Tomorrow is another day"
"Look what you can do with your skills,
Listen to the birds, with all their trills,
The green of grass and trees
The steady humming of the bees
In search of honey."
Life is full of ups and downs
Sometimes you feel you've had enough
That's when you find your friends
Who really care
Who'll help you
Dust yourself off
Who'll lend an ear
And a word of cheer
In this rocky old world
And if you listen very carefully
Perhaps you will hear the sound of laughter
Not in the hereafter - but now.

Hi Kids!

Here is another puzzle for you with a word list. Look in the diagram of letters for the words given in the list. Find them by reading up, down, forward, backward and diagonally. They are all in a straight line and do not skip letters. Some have hidden words or sayings, some do not. Circle the words in the diagram and cross it off in the list.

It's as easy as that. Have fun.

Dear readers. I thought I had better start to tell what's been happening here on this long holiday. I might forget it - and let it slip away.

Edith Welch had her son Ron and wife Pat come to visit her and stay to dine along with Aunt Caroline. Lilly Miller had relatives come stay with her to dine, relatives and visitors coming and going nearly all the time.

In the chapel service Sunday night the Burgesses and Thompsons had a rest for coming all the way from Toronto, we had special guests. Ruth played the music for two hymns we did sing, we were so glad to welcome them. The young ladies sang so sweetly for us and their leader spoke so forcefully on the power of prayer. Now we would just like to say thank you for coming to us on this 19th May day.

The ladies in the next room to me, seem to be going and coming all the time, you just can't keep them down. Edna had her son and wife to call all the way from Parry Sound.

Angus Coulter says it's time for him to stop and do no more work in his carpenter shop. Angus has worked hard all his days and has a nice family, now he's taking it easy - it's sure good to see.

Tuesday morning Father George Elliott of Minden Anglican Church conducted a Communion Service in the chapel this May day. Fred Ballard the music did play.

Tuesday afternoon, it being such a nice day, Doris took us for a ride in the Hyland Bus down Bobcay-geon way. Linda came along to see that we kids behaved ourselves.

Then Tuesday night our musicians came, the two Mervins, Murray, Shirley and Kirk and when trying to get their instruments tuned up, they really went to work. They surely know how to play and sing, we enjoy them so much, great pleasure they do bring.

Thursday the ladies from the Minden Horticultural Society brought and served a lovely lunch, such a grand variety. I would have like to have played them a few harmonica tunes, but you see I had no one that knew the key to accompany me.

We welcome Mrs. Pearl Lyle, who has come to live at Hyland Crest. We hope she will like it here, we are sure will feel truly blessed.

We would like to thank the Bingo callers who came to call the Bingo numbers Thursday night, Opal and Craig Crowe, Teena Gilbert and Beulah Hewitt - they sure did the job just right, really know how to do it.

Grace Coburn came this Friday afternoon to lead us in a sing song. Although her husband is in hospital, we hope it won't be for long. Florence Robinson came the music to play - it is good to have Florence with us from time to time, after having surgery. She is getting her strength back and feeling fine.

We would like to welcome back to Hyland Crest Della Curry and Mrs. Winnifred Johnson - who have been in Hospital a good many days having a good rest.

A budget about jobs

- by Bill Scott, MP -

This is a budget about jobs. It takes decisive action to promote economic renewal and job creation on three strategic fronts:

- encouraging private initiative and enterprise by increasing the availability of capital and rewarding success instead of subsidizing effort;

- improving the effectiveness of management of government and the public service; and

- reducing the deficit and controlling the spiralling national debt.

This budget was formulated after the most extensive round of pre-budget consultations in history. We have listened to Canadians in all walks of life, in every region of the country. We have translated the mandate for change we received last September into an agenda for action - on jobs, on growth, and on government responsibility.

This budget is responsible, effective, and fair. It is responsible because it confronts the challenges of government - the challenges we were elected to face - that were irresponsibly ignored by the former government. As Michael Wilson stated in the budget speech, "At some point we must begin to pay the bills for current services and not pass them on to our children".

It is effective because it reduces the deficit by $4.4 billion this year and $8.3 billion next year, and takes control of the burden of the national debt.

The budget is fair because the measures to reduce the deficit do not endanger the economic recovery. All Canadians are being asked to contribute, but those in the greatest need are adequately protected. The budget is a carefully crafted balance of initiatives that must be perceived as a whole. It asks individuals and corporations to pay their fair shares, and it also uses the tax system to promote economic growth and job creation. It contains expenditure reductions and a review of programs, and it also increases funding for job creation and training programs and raises the child tax credit. It puts the government's own house in order, while it approves tax assistance to charities, artists, and the disabled.

It is a budget for the 1980's. It builds on our strengths for a better Canada and a better tomorrow. It says to individuals and communities: for too long, government has made your decisions for you. Now is the time to translate your ideas and energies into the kind of Canada we all want for ourselves and our children.

ren. The lifetime exemption from capital gains up to $500,000 tells farmers that we appreciate the importance of the business of agriculture.

The budget is realistic, it is fair, and it will be effective.

Horticultural meeting

The Minden and District Horticultural Society has invited Mr. Larry Lenhardt as the guest speaker at their next meeting which will be held in the Municipal Chambers, Tuesday June 4 at 7:30 p.m.

Mr. Lenhardt is coordinator of farm management and forest nursery

And we believe it will be effective because the actions we have taken in the budget reflect our faith in people, in the ingenuity and drive of individual Canadians to seize opportunities and invest in their own future.

programmes at Sir Sandford Fleming College, Frost Campus, Lindsay. He is also president of Lindsay District Horticultural Society.

His topic is a timely one, namely "Summer care of lawns and gardens."

Come with your questions. Everyone welcome.

Be part of an active community when you retire. Be a part of Lutterworth Estates.

IN MEMORIAM

ALTON: Stephan Wayne,
age 3 1/2 years who passed away suddenly 27 years ago
June 1, 1958.

Peaceful be thy sleep, dear son,
It is sweet to breathe thy name;
In life we loved you dearly,
In death we do the same.

Often we think of you dear son
And our hearts are sad with pain.

IN MEMORIAM

Oh this would be heaven.
Could we hear your voice
again.

You are gone but not forgotten.
Never shall your memory
fade.
Sweetest thoughts shall ever linger
Around the grave where you are laid.

Always remembered and sadly missed by Mom
